DR. STUCKLE DIES

CONCEPTION JUNCTION PHYSICIAN SUCCUMBS TO PERITONITIS.

Known and Loved Throughout the Northeastern Section of the County—No Funeral Arrangements.

Dr. William P. Stuckle, 48 years old, died at St. Joseph's hospital in St. Joseph at 7:30 o'clock last night. Two weeks ago Dr. Stuckle was operated on for appendicitis. He seemed to be improving until peritonitis set in, causing his death.

Dr. Stuckle was known and loved throughout the eastern section of the county, where he had practiced medicine for the last twenty years. In fact, so great was the respect and esteem in which he was held that when his body arrived in Conception Junction at noon today, all of the business houses closed and the citizens went in a body to the station, where they met the train and accompanied the remains to the family home in town.

Dr. Stuckle came to Missouri at an early age with his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stuckle. He studied medicine in St. Joseph and came back to Clyde to practice. From that time until a year ago, when he moved to Conception Junction, he had taken care of the sick in the vicinity of Clyde. He married Rosa Felix, a sister of Aaron Felix of Maryville, and they had one child, which died in infancy.

Besides his wife, Dr. Stuckle leaves his father and mother, who now live in St. Joseph, and two brothers and three sisters. They are:

Charlie and Minnie Stuckle of St. Joseph, Mrs. Charles Strop of St. Joseph, Mrs. John Reiglinger of Redding, Ia., and Joseph Stuckle, living south of Conception.

No funeral arrangements have been made.

THE FAIR IN MOVIES

AUSTRALIAN PROFESSOR WILL PHOTOGRAPH SCENES HERE.

TO USE FOR LECTURES

Mr. Heery Will Show Motion Pictures of Maryville Exhibition Every Day —Has Interesting Collection.

Prof. J. C. Heery of Sidney, Australia, is in Maryville and will take motion pictures of the Nodaway county fair next week. Professor Heery is on trip through the United States, and expects to use the material he obtains here as part of the illustrations for lectures which he will deliver when he returns to Australia.

Professor Heery will show his scenes of Maryville and the fair in a tent which will be located on the fair grounds next week. He has taken pictures of the Bedford fair, the Shenandoah fair and the Clarinda fair. In addition to showing these pictures, he has pictures which he has taken in fourteen states and a commercial picture, "The Crime of a Nation," a condensation of which will be shown in Maryville.

He does not expect to give lectures in connection with his exhibition at the Maryville fair, as there will be too much noise. The pictures will be taken one day, developed during the night and shown on the fair grounds the next day.

Professor Heery will have a lot of interesting pictures and information to incorporate into his lecture, 'A Trip Through America," which he intends to produce in Australia. He has visited and taken pictures of such interesting industries and places as the lumber industries and salmon fisheries of the northwest, the copper mining and smelting industries in Montana, the Colorado state penitentiary, Colorado mountain scenery, and lately the "Show Me Day" celebration in St. Joseph. At that place it occurred to him to take a number of pictures of fair life and doings in the middle west.

B. J. CHAUTAUQUA SUCCESS

All Tickets Sold and Return of Course Assured for Next Year—Citizens Faithful Workers.

The Burlington Junction chautauqua, which closed Sunday night, was a splendid success. Financially, the venture paid out, only a few tickets remaining unsold at the time of checking up, and these were disposed of a few minutes later.

Much of the success of the chautauqua this year was due to the splendid work of the secretary, Rev. Horace S. Weaver, who was at work every hour of the day the week before chautauqua opened, making a personal canvas himself and looking after practically all the detail work. He proved to be the man of the hour, and the Post would suggest that he be drafted into this job annually. Several business firms also proved to be the boosters they have always been, and disposed of a large number of tickets. G. C. Trusty, president of the local committee, helped materially in the sale of the tickets and to secure another chautauqua.—Burlington Junction Post.

The ranks of the old soldiers are thinning out. In and around Barnard only seventeen are left. They are: W. R. Goff, C. H. Eaton, J. W. Fuller, Fed Baker, Sam Conley, Hiram Pittsenburger, N. W. Carmichael, P. J. Hainey, M. V. Baker, John A. Goff, S. A. Matson, Henry Coler, Henry Hubbard, Fred Breit, M. K. Moore, R. P. Nelson and G. W. Blagg.—Barnard Bulletin.

PLANNING REVIVAL

CHURCH COMMITTEES MEET TO PREPARE FOR EVANGELIST.

LARGE TENT ORDERED

Location of Meetings Not Decided—Will Probably Be on High School Grounds.

As was announced in yesterday's Democrat-Forum, Charles Reign Scoville, evangelist, will come to Maryville to hold revival meetings from September 10 to October 9. A meeting of the laymen committee, three from each Protestant church, was held last night in the First M. E. church, and the action of the ministers in caling Mr. Scoville was approved and plans for the revival were discussed.

Word was received from Mr. Scoville this morning confirming what he said on the telephone yesterday afternoon to the Rev. C. Emerson Miller in his acceptance of the call. Two of the workers for Mr. Scoville will arrive in the city probably Sunday and will start work at once to organize personal workers for the revival and also make arrangements for a large choir.

A tent that will hold 2,400 people has been ordered by the local committee in charge of the meetings from Baker & Lockwood of Kansas City. It is probable that the tent will be placed on the public school grounds, where the Chautauqua was held. Permision will be asked from the school board if this location is decided on.

Mr. Scoville and the other members of his team will arrive in Maryville September 9.

"FILLING THE SILO"

University Bulletin Gives Important Points on How to Obtain Good Corn Silage.

Are you now filling or soon to start filling your silo for the winter? The University of Missouri, in a circular, "Filling the Silo," gives a number of points that might aid the farmer in filling his silo with corn. Corn for silage, states the bulletin, should be in the same stage of maturity as when harvested for fodder; that is, the kernels should be dented, in the dough stage, and the lower leaves of the stalk turning brown. If possible the corn should not be allowed to become dry before being put into the silo, because dry corn will not pack properly unless large amounts of water are used and unless it is thoroughly packed the silage will mould. The one-half or three-quarter inch cut of corn will usually prove most satisfactory.

Packing of the silage is very important. A distributor should be used and enough men placed in the silo to do the work well. The sides should be kept a little higher than the center, and the silage packed firmly around the walls until near the end of filling. It is well to fill the silo rather rapidly, when it is possible to leave it to settle over Sunday and complete the filling on Monday. Otherwise a slower filling is advised.

When the crop has become dry, water may be added either directly into the silo or by running it into the blower as the corn is cut.

If the silage is to stand some time before feeding, it is customary to cover the silo with a number of loads of corn stalks from which the ears have been removed, packing it thoroughly with water. Other methods are also occasionally used.

The corn may be fed immediately after filling and practically no waste will occur. It will, however, be in the form of green corn, as several days are required to develop silage from green corn. When feeding is delayed it is necessary to remove the spoiled silage from the top.

TO HELP MOTHERS

WOMEN LEFT WITH CHILDREN TO BE PROVIDED FOR.

STATE GRANTS PENSIONS

Movement Afoot to Extend Aid to Dependent Youngsters by Recompensing Mothers.

Any civilized state or community must look after the welfare of the children born in that community, says Dr. M. P. Ravenel of the preventive medicine department of the University of Missouri. Presumably all children have two parents able to take care of them. Suppose, however, the bread winner, who is usually the father, dies, is killed, becomes insane or is put in the penitentiary. What is to become of the mother with a number of children dependent upon her? If she works to earn enough for herself and children, it is evident that she can not give them the proper mother's care. As a rule, such a family sinks to the depths of poverty, and it needs no argument to prove that poverty is one of the great causes of degradation and crime.

During the last few years this subject has been widely c onsidered with the result that many states are now providing for the care of dependent children. Such provision usually goes under the head of mothers' pension.

Missouri was the first state in the Union, 1911, to pass a law granting an allowance to mothers whose husbands were dead or in prison, and who had children under 14 years of age. The same year authority was given to the city of St. Louis to establish a board of children's guardians with authority to board children out to their own parents.

In 1913, out of forty-two legislatures which were in session, twenty-seven had bills before them providing for the support of dependent children in their own homes at the public's expense, so that at the present time many cities have provisions which are more or les sadequate for this class of children. Such allowances should not be regarded in the light of charity. The child of today is the citizen of tomorrow, and there is no more enlightened way in which the public can spend its money than in caring for the welfare and education of children who, through no fault of theirs, have become dependent.

CONGRESS VOTES ON ADAMSON BILL

AT 4:30 O'CLOCK, BUT SITUATION SERIOUS IN THE SENATE.

NO STRIKE IF THE BILL IS ENACTED INTO LAW

Republicans of Senate Hold Secret Conference and Can Tie Up Entire Railroad Porgram.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Washington, Sept. 1.—Congress today cleared the way for action on the proposed eight-hour law for the railroad employes, the only plan which will result in the brotherhoods calling off the strike. The house interstate committee favorably reported the measure as introduced by Adamson yesterday. At the same time the rules of the committee provide for a vote on the measure at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon.

The situation in the senate is still serious. The Republicans held a secret conference to determine what action should be taken. In the meantime the upper house took a recess to await that decision. The Democrats of the senate admitted that the Republicans had power to tie up the entire program, but they believe that the Republicans will agree to pass the eight-hour law by itself and wait until next week to take up the remainder of the suggested presidential program. Meanwhile the brotherhood chiefs await the outcome of the Republican senators' conference. A committee was appointed to draft substitute proposals for the president's legislative program.

Strike Preparations Going On.

Chicago, Sept. 1.—Notwithstanding the optimism from Washington over congress' ability to avert the threatened strike a dozen railroad presidents continued today to prepare for the walkout Monday. Many of them have voiced their protest against the legislation proposed.

PART CHILDREN PLAY IN POLITIC

How the Welfare of Boys and Girls Induced Two Southeast Farmers to Change Party.

St. Louis, Aug. 31.—A southeast Missouri visitor to Democratic state headquarters this week brought this overheard discussion of politics by two Republican farmers in that section of the state.

"John," opening the conversation and addressing "Tom" (and these are their real names), asked: "Have you been reading the political news?"

"Yes," replied Tom, "I've been reading it as I get it in the weekly papers, and John, do you know that a great change has taken place since just after the war, when we commenced voting the Republican ticket? You have five boys and I have three girls. The management of government does not interest us as much as it used to. We are on the shady side of life, but we ought not to shut our eyes with prejudice to the interests of our children."

"You are right, Tom, and do you know we have been thinking along the same lines. The issues since we pinned our faith to the Republican party have entirely changed, and then, Tom, if you would make a man think long and hard, just bring serious matters to his own door. I have five boys, as you say. I have been watching this war situation. Wife and I prayed constantly that the Republicans wouldn't nominate Mr. Roosevelt. We believed it would mean war, and we were thinking about our boys. I had a high opinion of Judge Hughes. His dignified course during the convention impressed me. But I'm a little shaky about him since he began to talk—make speeches. He appears to be thoroughly under the influence of Mr. Roosevelt. His criticism of President Wilson's foreign policy is not what I expected of him. I was sure he would commend it as every patriot, as I look at it, should, under the circumstances. And his weakness is shown in that while he criticises, he has nothing better to offer. As I view it, in times like these, every citizen, Republican and Democrat, should be loyal to the president. While I was a standpatter and voted for Mr. Taft, when Mr. Wilson prevailed at the polls he was my president. Tom, I'm thinking about breaking away from the old party and voting for Wilson, peace—and my boys!"

"Well, John, you talk mighty sensibly. The war, of course, does not touch me as closely as it does you, for you see my boys are girls. I want to look after the girls. I have a mortgage on my little farm, and so long as I pay exorbitant interest and commissions I will never get it paid off. I have been reading about Col. Gardner's land bank bill, and it seems to offer a solution. Judge Lamm and the Republican platform have declared against this plan to relieve the farmers, and like Judge Hughes they do not offer anything, leaving the farmers at the mercy of the money sharks, so I have made up my mind to vote for Colonel Gardner, the land bank bill—and my girls!"

"Guess then, Tom, we'll both vote the Democratic ticket straight in November for self-protection."

"It looks that way."

Mrs. M. A. Ummethun of Kansas City, who has been visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. G. Orear, the last few weeks, returned to her home today.

Obituary.

Pernecia, the second child of Mr. and Mrs. William Saunders, was born near Maryville, Mo., September 16, 1848, and was called to rest from her home in Graham, August 30, 1916, aged 67 years 11 months and 14 days.

Her parents were natives of Kentucky and were among the early settlers of Nodaway county, their deaths occurring at advanced ages at Maryville. On December 27, 1865, she was united in marriage to John Collet, and to them one child, a daughter, was born, who is now Mrs. James A. Kavanaugh, Graham. The subject of this sketch was affiliated with the M. E. church, South, holding her membership with the New Hope congregation. She, with her husband, left their beautiful farm home in 1908 and moved to Graham. For over 50 years she has been a kind wife and mother.

Her death was sudden, but she was ever ready to answer the summons. When she came to the borders of the grave a year ago, was abundantly supported by grace. Only two days ago, on Wednesday morning, while about her household duties, a blood vessel burst in her leg. She called for assistance to her daughter, Mrs. James Kavanaugh, who lives next door. The relatives and physicians arrived immediately, but in a few minutes they witnessed the outgoing of her spirit. So near the other world we live that we pass the dividing line quickly, and so little hold we have on this life that in a thoughtless moment it drops like a slender thread from our hand. And now to the aged husband we ask, "The Lord lift up his countenance upon thee and give thee peace."

Funeral services were held at the house at 2 o'clock today in charge of Elder Harlan, and the body was buried in Prairie Home cemetery.

WOMAN LEAVES FUND TO TEACH GIRLS MOTHERHOOD

Amount Is Residue of Detroit Testatrix's Estate and May Reach Million.

Detroit.—Establishment of a school for teaching girls motherhood is provided in the will of Mrs. Lizzie Merrill Palmer, widow of Senator Thomas W. Palmer, recently filed for probate in Detroit. The amount for the school is not designated, but it is the residue of Mrs. Palmer's estate. Probate officials believe that the legacy will amount to approximately $1,000,000.

The will provides that girls who are unable or unwilling to pay the cost of their board at the school shall be educated free of charge.

BOOM TOWN, BUT STILL THERE'S NO JAG LIST

Augusta, Kan., Center of Oil Field, Has Nothing Stronger Than Soda.

Augusta, Kan.—Makers of boom towns always have to have something to drink. And with Kansas a prohibition state, the men who have flocked here in connection with the oil developments have turned to soft drinks.

With temperatures around 100 for six weeks the local drug stores found the demand for iced drinks so great that they are moving out their old drug store fixtures to make room for more fountains, more tables and more booths. Two and three "soda squirts" are on duty in each place each day and at night their forces are more than doubled.

"You got to stand in line half an hour at night to get a drink," explained one hotel clerk.

Some of the fountains are fixed up like real bars—brass rail, frosted mirrors and booths along the walls. It's all there except the drunks.

"Augusta is as peaceful as any village. The lid is on tight," this same hotel clerk confided, "and every arrest means a conviction with a regular fine."

Mural Painter Tells How English Captors at Holyhead Freed Him.

New York.—J. J. A. Murphy, a mural painter who has been four years in England engaged in panel work, is in this country to execute some decorative work in Boston. Mr. Murphy said that crossing over to Ireland was a trying experience on account of the fear by the government officials.

At Holyhead he was arrested as a German spy and for three hours had to stand upon the stone pier with bayonets pressed lightly against his chest while two English officers put him through a severe examination.

Finally one of the officers said to him, "Say squirrel." Mr. Murphy obeyed the request, and the senior officer then said to him, "You are free."

When he asked what the word squirrel had to do with his being suspected as a spy the officer replied, "A German can't say squirrel."

HEALTH MOVIES POPULAR.

Outfit of North Carolina Board of Health Is In Demand.

Raleigh, N. C.—The moving picture outfit of the state board of health has struck a pleasant chord with the people. While the outfit was in use in Union county Anson county made application for a three weeks' engagement, which was granted. The pictures are shown in connection with the anti-typhoid campaign now on, and both features of health work are being well received.

While health moving pictures are more or less a new feature of health educational work, they are meeting the same popularity that the regular movies have always met and are in demand wherever their worth and popularity are known. Already the counties of Wake, Johnson and Alamance have had the use of the pictures.

FOR A GOOD CROP

CAREFUL FERTILIZING NEEDED TO PREVENT SHORTAGE OF WHEA

DESTROY HESSIAN FLY

Farmer Must Guard Against Insect Which Is Enemy to Grain—Plant Food Necessary.

Careful manuring and proper precautions against the Hessian fly should be looked after this fall if we are to do everything possible to avoid another short wheat crop. Plenty of barn yard manure, and clover, alfalfa, or some other legume in rotation furnish the nitrogen that wheat needs most cheaply, but lime, phosphorus and potash must sometimes be added in other ways.

The amount of available plant food in your soil this fall will be one of the chief factors in determining your wheat yield next year. One of the principal causes of winter killing is poor fall condition. On the better lands of the state this is not such a serious problem, but on the medium to poorer soils it is only under exceptionally favorable conditions that the wheat will be vigorous enough to withstand a severe winter. This fall condition can usually be improved by the use of some sort of commercial fertilizer. It has been found by the Missouri agricultural experiment station that the use of commercial fertilizers on the wheat crop is usually a good investment, especially on the thin, worn soils of the state.

Phosphorus is the element most generally lacking in Missouri soils, and has given very satisfactory money returns when supplied to the wheat crop in some form of commercial fertilizer. This element of plant food is most commonly added by the use of such fertilizers as steamed bonemeal, acid phosphate, or mixed fertilizers which carry a high percentage of available phosphoric acid. On lands which have a fair supply of organic matter from 125 to 150 pounds of steamed bonemeal, or 150 to 200 pounds of acid phosphate will usually give very satisfactory returns. On poorer lands mixed fertilizers containing some nitrogen may often be most desirable.

Potash is needed for wheat on many soils, but the war has made it so high in price that the increased wheat yield will probably not pay the extra expense.

NEWS FROM ALL Northwest Missouri

After an auto trip through a number of Iowa towns a prominent citizen of Hopkins has become an advocate of oiling the streets of the town instead of paving. The advantage of the cheaper system, as he sees it, is that it may be extended to every street in town, while the cost of the paving limits its use to only a street or two. It is estimated that the cost of oiling will amount to about $6.00 in front of each ordinary residence lot.

The Burlington Junction Post last week contained an unusual advertisement—a half page—for which the editor, loyal to the best interests of his community, probably received and expected no pay. The text of the ad is worth copying and explains itself: "To win the race of life, a town and community must 'pull together' for their mutual good. Farm land increases in value when located in the trade radius of a thriving, prosperous town or city. A town or city grows and prospers when it is surrounded by a loyal, thrifty farming community. Let's join hands for our mutual benefit."

At Gallatin the Young Men's Christian Association is doing a lot of good. They maintained a "Y" tent at the chautauqua and now planning a tennis tournament. Their annual camp is open this week and the entire community is enjoying its program of basket dinners, athletic meets, fishing, swimming, canoe tilting and canoe races.

The owners of overflow land along the valley of Grand River are expecting soon to receive from Washington, D. C., the final report of the federal drainage engineers who spent a part of the summer taking a preliminary survey of the valley. The recommendations of these experts will be awaited with much interest by many North Missouri counties having similar problems.

Because he wouldn't take a dare, Morris Brown of Stanberry rode his horse out upon a foot bridge. When half way across horse and rider plunged from the bridge and the boy was killed.

Editor Ficklin of the DeKalb County Herald sounds a warning with reference to the class of attractions that seek admission to our rural picnics, street fairs and county fairs: "If the people want their children to wallow early in life to that which brings rottenness of soul in time, and makes for soul ruin in eternity, they need only to allow show rights to be sold at places of this kind to the speckled Toms and loose Lizzies of the world."

In the storm which visited Savannah recently the Elmer Howard family had an unusually harrowing experience. A limb from a large maple tree was torn off by the wind and thrown against their house with such force that it penetrated the siding and plaster and projected three feet into their living room.

Andrew county this week is being organized into the Jefferson Highway Association.

The Savannah Reporter contains a refreshing account of a neighborhood gathering near Whitesville, in which the big farm home of J. D. Hobson was thrown open to the neighbors and an all-day picnic was enjoyed. The happy event is commented upon as follows: "In this strenuous, speed-mad age it is rare that a "day off" is taken for such an old-time neighborhood gathering of genuine enjoyment. No doubt it would lubricate life's machinery to stop oftener the incessant grind and spend a day in real healthful relaxation, to say nothing of the moral and spiritual uplift."

The first article in a notable historical series now being compiled by the Elizabeth Harrison Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution appears in the latest issue of the Bethany Republican. The first article is a biography of Mrs. Emeline Templeman, a resident of Harrison county, who came to that locality in 1841 while it was still a portion of Daviess county. Among the many facts recorded in the article is an account of Bethany's first and only saloon—way back in the forties. The proprietor prospered until one night he fought and killed one of his patrons, after which he left for parts unknown and Bethany has not had another dramshop within its limits in all the years that have followed.

Hatfield, not content with Mother's Day, fried chicken day, and all the other special days of the modern calendar, is to have a "Ford Day" September 6. The local Ford agent has sold 114 Fords this year and now advertises a free ice cream, cake and fruit supper to all his customers and has put up $15 in cash prizes for the occasion. Hatfield is expecting the "biggest swarm of Tin Lizzies ever assembled."

Two tramps held up the crew of a Burlington local freight at Liberty recently, taking watches and money. The conductor, however, broke away and spread the alarm with the result that one of the men was captured.

Three Maryville bakeries have announced a change in the weight of their five cent loaves from 13 ounces to 11 ounces and in their ten cent loaves from 26 ounces to 22 ounces.

A Liberty farmer recently harvested eighteen acres of potatoes that made 200 bushels to the acre. The Liberty Advance states that the potatoes were of fine quality and were sold at 90 cents a bushel.

While riding a roller coaster down one of Princeton's streets, Lester Houck, nine years old, dashed into a team that was traveling along a cross street. He was badly injured by the frightened horses. His skull was slightly fractured and his nose broken but hopes are held for his recovery.

Wiley Curtis and family of Modena believe this is their unlucky summer. Several weeks ago their house and most of their goods were destroyed by fire and now comes the report that during a recent thunderstorm the barn in which they were living was struck by lightning and burned, together with the remainder of their household belongings.

Lost to home folks for seven years and supposed to have been dead, Ike Mullinns returned last week to Chillicothe safe and sound. During his absence he had experienced a variety of good and bad luck. In an Arkansas cornfield he plowed up $600 in gold, used the money to build a house which later burned down together with $25 in paper money.

A Brookfield business man thought to renew his youth by trying the boys' "slippery slide" on the banks of Grand river. The slide was long and steep and slick and before he reached the water George Smith was going round and round like a rifle bullet. Striking sidewise on the surface of the weater he bursted his right ear drum and now has put away childish things such as slippery slides, while the injury slowly heals.

The third stolen car found in the neighborhood of Elmo strengthens the evidence against several men who have been arrested in Northern Missouri and Southern Iowa as members of a motor thief gang.

"Green beans are so tender this season," says John Goodhart in his Triumph items in the Mound City News-Jeffersonian, "that all you have to do is to fill your mouth full of pods, shake your head a little and they are masticated."

Once a week, after September 1, is often enough to print the News-Jeffersonian, announces Editor Howard Mills of Mound City. If he gives his subscribers as good a weekly as he has proved himself capable of doing with his excellent twice-a-week paper during the past months they will be getting more than their money's worth and no apologies need be offered by this loyal home-town booster.

With potato harvest just finished the famous Orrick district of Ray county reports 175 cars of tubers shipped out this season. The 87,500 bushels contained in these cars sold at 50 cents to one dollar a bushel, bringing in a cash addition to the community's wealth amounting to $65,525. This represents the crop from about 1,000 acres. About 20 years ago, says the Richmond Missourian, it was found that the soil in that section was peculiarly adapted to potato raising and since then millions of bushels of potatoes have been produced in the Orrick district.

In order to plow the ground for his 1200 acres of fall wheat, A. B. Sawyer & Son near Norborne have a tractor and gang plow outfit running, which turns over 40 acres of ground every 24 hours. It works night and day, and requires 120 gallons of gasoline between sun-up and sun-down. The tractor pulls eight fourteen-inch plows, says the Norborne Democrat.

A record on heavy hogs was made last week by a Worth county stockman, W. F. Roberts, who sold two cars of 291-pounders on the St. Joseph market at $10.60.

The Grant City Commercial Club has arranged for their big annual picnic, August 31. It is to be an old-fashioned carnival of fun with such contests as these: Pillow fight on pole, tug-of-war, spike and egg, bow and arrow, spoon and egg contest, potato race, sack race for ladies and three legged race for men.

ALL WORK GUARANTEED

Four Months Notice.

Preparatory to my quitting the Implement business, I shall on and after January 1, 1917, conduct strictly a cash or note business. They tell me it can't be done, but I'll show you. The banks do it; Ed Townsend does it; Sears and Robuck do it, and what they can do, I can do. SO KEEP YOUR EYE ON THE INDICATOR and do not misconstrue.

Think!!! Did you ever get ten dollars at a bank without first signing an interest bearing note, and no doubt, giving security? Did you ever get a dollars worth of groceries from Ed Townsend without first paying for them? And last, but not least, did Sears and Robuck ever send you a thing without your first sending the collateral, and too, without your having seen it? These questions, CAN BE answered by the children.

Please Remember The Date.

It is a Fact,

January 1, 1917, I shall have been in the implement business, right here in Maryville a quarter of a century. Think!

This is costing me $2.40.

"OF COURSE."
